

School Standards for Business (in bold) and Esports Management (ESPM)g0 (n)-1.15 Td(of)Tj0(e.)Tnc

The School of Business adopts the University Standards for teaching.

The Esports Management Program adopts the University and School of Business Standards for teaching.

For faculty in the Esports Management Program, the process for assessing the appropriateness of an academic journal is explained in the School of Business's

gMC 04 u

Cross-disciplinary and inter-disciplinary scholarship is also valued by the Esports Management Program and should be judged by the University standards for excellence in scholarship.

The School of Business supports and encourages the wide variety of scholarly activities recognized by the University and adopts the University Standards for scholarly and creative activity.

The Esports Management Program supports and encourages the wide variety of scholarly activities recognized by the University and School of Business and adopts the University and School of Business Standards for scholarly and creative activity.

In the Esports Management Program, applicants for tenure should have a scholarly record that indicates the strong likelihood that, by the end of their sixth year at Stockton, they will meet the standards set forth in the School of Business's AACSB Faculty Qualifications and Engagement Guidelines Handbook to be deemed a Scholarly Academic (SA). After tenure is granted, faculty are generally expected to maintain either SA or Practice Academic (PA) status. The School of Business's AACSB Faculty Qualifications and Engagement Guidelines Handbook is maintained by the Research and Faculty Qualifications Committee in alignment with the AACSB standards. The applicable standards at time of tenure and/or promotion submissions are currently governed by the Procedure for the Evaluation of Faculty and Library Faculty.

- 9.5 In light of 9.4, following the normal probationary period, tenure should be awarded to candidates who meet the following criteria:

tT8 0 Tw 1.84 0 T504 0Tj0.002 Tc -0.002 Tw 0.270 Td[

