University Standards for Faculty with School Standards for Business (in bold) and Hospitality, Tourism and Event Management Standards (HTEM) in Italics

Preamble

The School of Business faculty recognizes the need for a uniform set of standards for the evaluation of teaching, scholarship, and service that is fair and flexible, and provides reasonable goals and expectations for those who seek tenure and promotion in the School. School Standards need to be broad enough and flexible enough to support a range of teaching methodologies, service, and scholarly activity.

The School of Business adopts the University Faculty Evaluation Standards. The School Standards occasionally elaborate upon the University Standards to reflect the unique efforts of faculty in the School of Business. Individual Program guidelines within the School may be more specific.

This policy covers all members of the School of Business faculty including tenured, tenure-track, and non-tenure track. It does not cover adjunct faculty.

Non-tenure-track teaching positions will be held to the same teaching and service standards outlined in sections 6.1 and 6.3 of this document.

The Hospitality, Tourism and Event Management (HTEM) Program adopts the University and School of Business Faculty Evaluation Standards. The Program recognizes the need for a uniform set of standards for the evaluation of teaching, scholarship, and community service that is fair, flexible, and that provides reasonable goals and expectations for those who seek tenure and promotion in the HTEM Program. These standards are intended to be broad enough and flexible enough to support a range of teaching methodology, and scholarly activity consistent with our goals of achieving and maintaining AACSB accreditation.

6.0 ELABORATION OF UNIVERSITY STANDARDS FOR TEACHING FACULTY

6.1 Teaching

6.1.1 Educating students, both inside and outside the classroom, studio, or laboratory is the University's primary purpose. Therefore, performance in teaching carries the greatest weight in the evaluation of faculty. All aspects of teaching, including preceptorial teaching as applicable, will be evaluated in order to gain a clear understanding of each faculty member's performance.

6.1.2 In broad terms, excellence in teaching is characterized by:

6.1.2.1

assignments—whether program or General Studies, introductory or advanced offerings—as evident in clear learning goals and expectations, content reflecting the best available scholarship or artistic practices, and teaching techniques aimed at student learning.

6.1.2.3. The ability to organize course material and to communicate this information effectively. The development of a comprehensive syllabus for each course taught, including expectations, grading, and attendance policies, and the timely provision of copies to students.

6.1.2.4 Demonstration of respect for students as members of the academic community through timely feedback and responses to student communications

6.1.3 Where appropriate, additional measures of teaching excellence are:

6.1.3.1 Ability to use technology in teaching.

6.1.3.2 The capacity to relate the subject matter to other fields of knowledge.

6.1.3.3 Seeking opportunities outside the classroom to enhance student learning of the subject matter.

6.1.3.4 The ability to lead, promote, and/or participate in successful credit-bearing experiences in community engagement, service-learning, faculty-sponsored/mentored research, and global education.

6.1.3.5 Ability to create an inclusive and respectful environment.

6.1.3.6 Serving as a teaching role model or mentor to other faculty.

6.1.4 The School of Business adopts the University Standards for teaching.

6.1.5 The Hospitality, Tourism and Event Management Program adopts the University and School of Business Standards for teaching.

6.2 Scholarly and Creative Activity

6.2.1 The teacher-scholar model recognizes that a serious and continuing commitment to engaging in scholarship or creative activity of one's disciplinary and/or interdisciplinary work consistent with rank and/or assigned responsibilities, enriches teaching and is the foundation of sustained excellence within the classroom.

6.2.2 Publications and creative work in support of reappointment and tenure are those achieved during the tenure candidate's probationary period. Activity in support of a post-tenure promotion or range adjustment is that work completed since the most recent promotion or range adjustment.

6.2.3 The University recognizes a wide variety of scholarly vehicles: disciplinary or interdisciplinary research, pedagogical research, applied research, integrative scholarship, community engagement and service-learning, artistic or creative activity, and grant writing.

academic or trade presses and reviewed in appropriate journals.

6.2.4.6.2 Articles, essays, reviews, and creative writing should be published in appropriate scholarly/creative journals or venues, whether print or electronic. Some assessment should be made as to the quality of the journal in which the piece appears, in particular, its scholarly/creative reputation and whether or not the journal or proceedings are peer reviewed.

6.2.4.6.2.1 For faculty in the Hospitality, Tourism and Event Management Program, the process for assessing the appropriateness of an academic journal is explained in the School of Business's AACSB Faculty Qualifications and Engagement Guidelines Handbook.

6.2.4.6.3 Scholarly and creative activity that involves students as co-presenters, co-participants, or co-authors.

6.2.4.6.4 A presentation should be evaluated on the quality of its content and on the prestige of the meeting where it was delivered. Qualitative judgments are best made when copies of presentations are made available. National and regional meetings should rank higher than local meetings in most instances. Scholarly presentations should be ranked more highly than non-scholarly ones. Competitive selections as well as presentations receiving disciplinary acknowledgement for excellence should be noted. In most disciplines a record of scholarship based on presentations alone will not be evaluated as highly as one including refereed publications. For faculty in the Hospitality, Tourism and Event Management Program, I-CHRIE (International Council on Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Educators) is the long-recognized leader for hospitality educators, both in annual conference and in publications. I-CHRIE does a double-blind review of all presentations across all categories through their international publications committee. In addition, the program values RFQC approved designated associations, conferences, and publications.

6.2.4.6.5 Work in the arts may be evaluated by a number of different measures: assessment of its quality by peers or professional critics; the reputation of the gallery, museum, or other artistic venue where it

6.2.4.6.11 Faculty engaged in community outreach can make a difference in the communities and beyond by defining or resolving relevant social problems or issues, by facilitating organizational development, by improving existing practices or programs, and by enriching the cultural life of the community. Scholarship may take the form of widely disseminating the knowledge gained in community-based projects in appropriate professional venues in order to share its significance with those who do not benefit directly from the project.

6.2.4.6.12 Cross-disciplinary and inter-disciplinary scholarship is also valued by the Hospitality, Tourism and Event Management Program and should be judged by the University standards for excellence in scholarship.

6.2.5 The School of Business supports and encourages the wide variety of scholarly activities recognized by the University and adopts the University Standards for scholarly and creative activity.

6.2.6 The Hospitality, Tourism and Event Management Program supports and encourages the wide variety of scholarly activities recognized by the University and School of Business and adopts the University and School of Business Standards for scholarly and creative activity.

6.2 University and Community Service

6.2.7 The faculty role includes contributions to the achievement of the University's mission through effective participation in governance activities, including leadership roles at the Program, School, or University-wide levels. These contributions may require the capacity to work collaboratively with other members of the University community, including activities related to alumni and the University Foundation.

to serve the University and community at levels commensurate with their rank. Faculty who are tenured, have multi-year contracts, and/or are of senior rank would be expected to have more substantial records in this area, as demonstrated by achievements in leadership on campus, in the community, to their disciplines, and to professional organizations.

- 6.2.10 Evaluation of achievements in this area focuses on the significance of participation, the impact of service, the scope of responsibilities, the effectiveness of participation, and contributions to the functioning, administration, and development of the University and other entities. Clear goals, adequate preparation and appropriate methods of providing service, significant results of the service, and reflection on the contribution and its use to improve the quality of future service are all aspects of documenting achievement in campus or community service. Sustained service is expected to meet the minimum requirement of this responsibility. Compensated service is generally not sufficient to meet the minimum

6.2.13 The Hospitality, Tourism and Event Management Program adopts the University and School of Business Standards for University and Community Service.
