

Christie to make campaign stops today in Atlantic City and Somers Point

Press staff reports | Posted: Saturday, November 2, 2013 9:40 am

Gov. Chris Christie will make two campaign stops today in Atlantic County in advance of Tuesday's election.

The governor, who took office in 2010, will face Democratic challenger Barbara Buono, a state senator whose 18th Legislative District includes parts of Middlesex County.

At 3:45 p.m., Christie will attend a rally at the VFW post at 500 Bethel Road in Somers Point followed by a 4:30 p.m. meet and greet with patrons at Formica Brothers Bakery at 2310 Arctic Avenue in Atlantic City.

In the last week, Christie has made campaign stops in Little Egg Harbor Township, Ocean City and Vineland. He led Buono by 24 percentage points in a recent poll by Richard Stockton College's Polling Institute.