

New Jersey lawmakers push for revenue advisory board

By 5bXfYk '7cYb

Published >Ubi Ufm$('&$% Z%&.)' da '9GH

More in GHUH'Vi X[YfgzGHUH'cZBYk '>YfgYmzBYk '>YfgYm

As Gov. Phil Murphy gets set to release his second budget proposal

Schaer said he hopes the state senate will advance his bill early this year to put the revenue advisory panel in place for 2020 budget planning, but more realistically expects a consensus forecasting system by the following fiscal year. The assembly measure has bipartisan support in the other chamber with senators Bob Gordon, D-Fair Lawn, and Steven Oroho, R-Sparta Township, co-sponsoring the measure.

The press office for Governor Murphy did not respond for comment on whether he supports the revenue advisory board concept. The Democratic governor is slated to release his nh0