Atlantic City, NJ – On Friday, May 4, 2007, The Atlantic-Cape Safe Youth Partnership will be hosting its inaugural conference, “The Road to Collaboration: Keys to Building Strong Communities.” The conference will address: The Economic State of the Region and Its Impact on Local Community Work, Grantmaking and the Benefits of Community Foundations, Sustaining Programs-What Constitutes Success, and Volunteer Recruitment and Retention. The conference will be hosted by the Carnegie Library Center, which is located at the northeast corner of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Blvd. and Pacific Avenue at 35 S. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Boulevard in Atlantic City.

The registration deadline for this full-day conference is April 30, 2007. The cost for attending is $20.00, which includes a continental breakfast, lunch, and materials. For more information and to register, please contact Luann Inman at (609) 626-3599.

The Atlantic-Cape Safe Youth Partnership is a collaborative project between The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey and Atlantic Cape Community College. This partnership is comprised of 14 area community and faith based organizations that work to address issues of youth violence in Atlantic and Cape May counties. For more information about this project, contact Ariane Newman Director of the Atlantic-Cape Safe Youth Partnership at (609) 626-3592.
