Galloway Twp., NJ – The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey awarded six fellowships to Stockton College students as part of its Board of Trustees' Distinguished Student Fellowships program. This is an annual program for which student scholars apply and, if selected, are awarded up to $1,000 to further their studies. This program, now in its twenty-first year, is an important part of the College's year-round emphasis on academic excellence and the fostering of effective partnerships between students, faculty and the community. Members of the selection committee consisted of faculty and staff members, as well as students.

The Fall 2007 winners were presented with their awards at the December 12, 2007 meeting of the Stockton College Board of Trustees. Recipients are:

- Shawn Casler, a senior from Bayville, NJ; James Hedigan, a junior from Barnegat, NJ; Demetrios Roubos, a senior from Forked River, NJ; and Ryan Shaw, a junior from Cranbury, NJ—all majoring in Computer Science and Information Systems—for their group project titled Wireless Security and Forensics.
- Megan O'Reilly, a senior mathematics major from South Seaville, NJ, for her project titled Exposing the Langlands Conjecture: Interconnector Between the Antipodal Galois and Lie Theories.
- Steven Golla, a senior from Mayetta, NJ, majoring in Chemistry, for his project, Analysis of Decomposition Products in the Iontophoresis of Lidocaine and Dexamethasone.
